

THOUGHTS FROM BRAD ...

I want to take this opportunity to say "Happy Father's Day" today to these special men at Fifth Avenue. This day is special to me for many reasons. I could write for days about the special relationship I have had with my Dad over the years. He taught me many things. But most importantly, he showed me that nothing is as important than having Jesus Christ in my life. I realize more and more, in this crazy world that we live, that I was truly blessed to have grown up in a Christian home. I never had to doubt my father's love for my mother or his love for his kids. He's a special man. I hope you have fond memories of your father as well.

Today as we honor our Father's, there is no evening service. Please be sure to celebrate Dad's everywhere as you gather with family and friends.

Again, I want to say thank you for praying for our trip to Grundy. We had a great week of service and fellowship. God is so good!

Just a thought about Father's...

Fatherlessness is the most harmful demographic trend of this generation. It's the engine driving America's most crucial social problems including crime, adolescent pregnancy, sexual abuse of children and domestic violence against women. Yet despite its scale and social consequences, fatherlessness is a problem that is frequently ignored.

Recent studies show that the father has a profound influence on his children's moral development, self-image and sexual identity. In fact, kids who grow up with the presence of an engaged, caring and loving father are less likely to live in poverty, get on welfare, go to prison, and get pregnant before they get married.

So, Fathers, my message for you is this: Your kids need you! Your presence and role in your family is vital. According to the Bible, the man's number one role in the family is to be a leader.

According to God, your primary objective as a father is for you to help your kid become like Jesus. Scripture says..."And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose. For those God foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers and sisters (Romans 8:28-29)."

Have a great day!

Brad
