

THOUGHTS FROM BRAD ...

Hello Everyone! This week, Kim and I will be at a week of Conference in North Carolina. I want to ask you to keep us in your prayers as we travel. I also ask that you would pray, that God would use this time to help us be renewed and refreshed in our service for the Kingdom. We look forward to worshipping with you on June 21st. In all the confusion of the past few months, ladies that is a special day for men; hint "FATHER'S DAY!"

As the old adage says, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." It was great seeing so many of you back at Fifth Avenue last week and I am sure you felt the same way. I hope you took full advantage of catching up with others, while safely practicing your social distance. By the way, I want to thank each of you as you spaced yourselves out beautifully around the sanctuary. By the looks of things, a few of you even took your "funny face stickers" home with you. You might want to check your outfit that you wore last Sunday. Haha!

Slowly but surely, we will get back to some regular activity. I can reassure you, as soon as we believe it to be safe for practices, electives, classes and fellowship opportunities, we will loosen the reigns, so to speak. We continue to ask for your patience, as we seek the advice of others as to when to reopen fully.

I heard from our friends from Grundy Mountain Mission this past week. They were happy to announce that there are no longer any cases of Covid-19 on their campus. Praise God! They also expressed how they miss all the volunteers that come each Summer to help maintain the beauty of their campus. This past week would have been when we were at Grundy. I missed being there so much! But we will look forward to our journey their together next year. Our trip for next year is June 20-25th. Please save the date, as the trip would not be the same without you.

Just a thought...

Today I am speaking on the theme: "You are God's work of art!" Displayed before you are some artwork from Rae Harrell. She is a talented artist who has traveled to teach all around the world, most recently in Italy. As you can see, she has a gift. As beautiful as her work is, and as each meticulous stroke of her brush has captured beauty of life on each canvas, I have to say, it pales in comparison to the beauty of what God has done and continues to do in each of you. Human life is His finest creation, to which you are a part. I wonder what your final, completed work of art will look like? Makes you think doesn't?

In His Service,

Brad

Based upon our Leadership's decisions and what other churches are doing, please note the following...

-We can assure you that our custodial/maintenance staff sanitizes all handles, rails, bathrooms, etc... after each use of the building.

-Please wear and bring a mask if it makes you feel more comfortable. However, masks will not be required to participate in worship.

-Certainly, if you have any signs of the virus, we ask that you not attend until those subside.

-We are encouraging everyone to keep the recommended six feet apart while in the building, whether visiting with others or while sitting in the pews.

-Please no hugs, shaking of hands, etc... as others may not be comfortable receiving that from you.

-We are encouraging no more than one person in the restroom at a time, since our restrooms are small. We have placed signs on the bathroom doors which encourage you to knock before entering. If someone is in the restroom, we are asking you to wait until they leave that area.

-Since our hallway areas are very narrow, we are asking that the flow of foot traffic continues.

-We are asking everyone to pick up their communion emblems upon entering the sanctuary at the designated tables. We will not pass the emblems down the pews, that way no one is passing germs to the next person.

-We will no longer shake hands, as has been the custom, as we leave the sanctuary.

-We have eliminated our meet-n-greet during the worship service.

-As normal, we have hand sanitizer at both entrances to the sanctuary.

-These are just the common sense measures we have implemented as we want everyone who plans to worship with us to feel comfortable. Thank you for helping us accomplish these goals!
